

---

Atrivm, the table where everyone can fit in

Manel Molina

---

Atrivm is the ideal table for meetings, meals and parties in outdoor areas. The versatility of this collection is clear through the multiples dimensions available and the possibility of customizing the table top with a rectangular, square or round top. Perfect for terraces and to complement coffee shops or restaurant. The A-shaped legs are the inspirational, authentic and recognizable element of the designer of the collection, Manel Molina, who was inspired by the origins of the architecture in the Roman Age: “Atrivm is the meeting place around which life unfolds, around which the structure of the Roman house is defined. The Mediterranean lifestyle maintains the tradition of celebrating life around the table. The tables of this collection, made of tubular structures of aluminum extrusion, succeed in joining lightness and strength, and offer a wide range of dimensions and finishes suitable for the most demanding indoor and outdoor environments”.

press release

---

Catering for varying weather conditions, materials which are both resistant and elegant have been used for the table top: HPL Trespa®, Dekton® and Kerlite® porcelain. The table is supported by legs made of aluminum extrusion, brightening up the table top at the same time.

Manel Molina

After a long professional career as one of the co-founders of Lievore Altherr Molina studio, 2016 would welcome the start of a new chapter in designer Manel Molina's professional life: the creation of Estudi Manel Molina in collaboration with Raimon Monsarro and Daniel Castro. However, Barcelona remains his headquarters while the objective stays pretty much the same, that is, developing projects in the field of industrial design and providing consultancy services to companies like Andreu World, Enea, Arper, Expormim, Thonet, Foscariini or Vibia to name just a few.

Credit:

Photography: Meritxell Arjalaguer©

